Diabetes Management at Home

is founded on patient education of the disease, complications associated with diabetes and self-management skills necessary to maintain a healthy, active lifestyle.

Our diabetes program follows the clinical pathways approved by the American Diabetes Association and our clinical staff will work directly with the patient's physician to ensure the proper treatment is being received by the patient.

Our treatment team will:

- Develop & update the patient's specific treatment plan
- Teach & support the patient & their caregivers
- Help the patient to be as independent as possible
- Have contact with the family, caregiver and physician
- Work to avoid rehospitalization

Program benefits:

- Medication education
- Better control of blood glucose levels
- Prevent complications through early recognition of signs & symptoms
- Nutrition education
- Self-management education
- Journal for tracking medication administration and blood glucose levels
- Exercise schedule management
- Education of acute & chronic diseases associated with diabetes
